We recently became aware of the website of TradeRush, www.traderush.com, which claims to provide an online platform for trading binary options. Canadian residents are able to open trading accounts through TradeRush's website.

TradeRush is not registered as required with Financial and Consumer Affairs Authority of Saskatchewan to trade in, or advise as to the investing in or the buying or selling of, securities or exchange contracts in Saskatchewan.

A binary option is a type of option whose payout depends on whether the underlying asset (such as a stock, a commodity, a currency pairing, etc) increases or decreases in value. Any document constituting evidence of an option, or any option that is not an exchange contract, is considered to fall within the definition of securities under Saskatchewan securities laws.

If you have been contacted by TradeRush or anyone who claims to be acting on their behalf, please contact the Securities Division, Enforcement Branch at 306-787-5936.
